

LEISURE & RECREATION

We provide high-performance, durable components for leisure and recreation, ensuring safety and reliability for every high-impact application.

We supply high-performance forged, machined, and fabricated components engineered to withstand the elements and rigorous use within the leisure and recreation sectors. Our forged parts, including marquee stakes, fasteners, and shotgun barrels, offer the high fatigue resistance and strength-to-weight ratios essential for high-impact activities. Whether it's for safety or longevity, we collaborate with our partners to deliver components that ensure equipment remains reliable, safe, and built to last.
